New Solutions For Your Dental Practice

Rapid fluoride release - Nupro® White Varnish

NUPRO® 5% White Varnish

promotes rapid fluoride release causing fast and effective relief from hypersensitivity. Applied with a brush in a thin layer, the fluoride varnish provides a highly concentrated temporary dose of fluoride to the tooth surface by sealing dentinal tubules. It even works on wet teeth as it sets on contact with saliva!

NUPRO White Varnish is formulated with a hydrogenated resin and urethane resin comprising 5% sodium fluoride at 22600 ppm. An independent test also showed that NUPRO White Varnish had greater fluoride uptake vs. Colgate® Duraphat® Varnish and in the case of VOCO Profluorid® Varnish, up to 130% more fluoride uptake into lesioned enamel¹.

1. Data on file

Control and confidence in every step of your Class II procedure

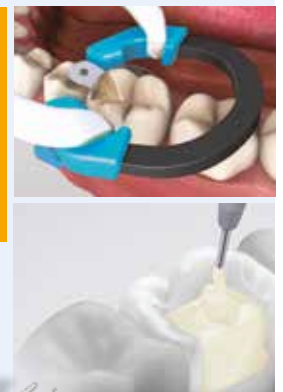

Did you know: 45% of direct restorations are Class II procedures¹? That's why Dentsply Sirona developed the Class II Solution; a proven approach to achieving a reliable outcome, addressing key challenges such as contact creation, recurrent caries and post-operative sensitivity, with innovative product solutions at each step of the procedure.

70% of clinicians find contact creation to be the most challenging part of a Class II restoration² - the Palodent® V3 matrix system provides tight contacts, anatomically accurate contours, and helps create a tight seal around the restorative field, especially at the gingival margin.

82% of dentists report using a flowable as a liner in Class II restorations to increase marginal adaptation² - SDR® is the first self-levelling flowable composite that not only provides excellent cavity adaptation, with up to 60 percent less polymerization stress, but allows a bulk fill of up to 4mm increments.

Dentsply Sirona Class II Solutions - Palodent V3, SDR and Ceram•X® universal - Face every step with more confidence!

Your perfect partner for transitioning from hand-filing to rotary endodontics

With its asymmetrical reciprocating movement and unique design, WaveOne Gold is valued both for its simplicity and its safety. With little 'shape memory', the file is suitable for even long, curved or narrow canals, and puts even difficult cases well within the capability of most general practitioners. In fact, up to 80% of cases can be started and finished with a single Primary file.

The unique unequal anti-clockwise and clockwise reciprocating movement offers a hand-file user the simplest of introductions to mechanical shaping; smooth and efficient file movement, with no force required to shape the canal to length. Being single use, the incidence of file breakage is dramatically reduced making WaveOne GOLD an incredibly cost-efficient option.

Please contact your local Dentsply Sirona territory manager for more information, to arrange a demonstration or to attend a course near you. Plus, details of any exclusive offers available!

GOLD

"The WaveOne Gold technique is simple and safe. With less chance of breakage dentists finally have a product that they can enjoy and use to create perfectly shaped canals, making even the toughest endodontic cases easier to tackle than ever before" - Dr. Julian Webber

To find out more about the above dental solutions or to arrange an in-practice demonstration, please contact your local Territory Sales Manager or email: enquiry.uk@dentsplysirona.com
