Built to last.

With Performer LR*, you're assured comfort and simplicity. It's part of what makes A-dec A-dec.

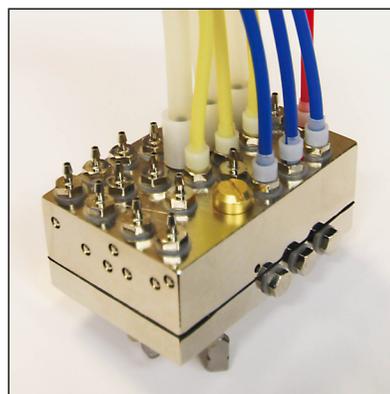

Designed to give you flexibility, plus access and comfort. Performer LR* answers the need for less complexity, lower cost and exceptional choices for every pound you invest.

Upgrade to the halogen 3-axis A-dec 6300 Light. The 6300 dental light provides a balanced light pattern with ideal contrast for a clear view of tooth topography. A neutral daylight colour temperature allows accurate colour/shade matching and tissue analysis.

The delivery system can be located in either left handed or right handed positions in a matter of seconds. It also features a 300 touchpad, which offers more functionality and the option to upgrade to the deluxe version.

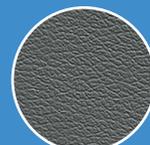

Legendary A-dec reliability starts with our design philosophy:- create innovative, feature-rich products without complication. The result? Easy-to-use equipment that lasts longer and requires less service.

Why choose A-dec

With almost 50 years experience of producing dental equipment, A-dec works with customers in more than 100 countries ranging from single-handed and group practices through to dental schools and hospitals. Here are just some of the reasons why so many professionals choose A-dec.

Quality and reliability

A-dec has earned a reputation over many years for creating probably the most durable and reliable equipment available. It is a reputation due largely to our dedication to quality as well as clever yet simple engineering design, which also leads to ease of equipment maintenance.

Ergonomics and efficiency

A-dec offers a very wide choice of equipment so no matter how you and your team want to work we have solutions to suit. The equipment is also designed to have outstanding flexibility of movement, so everything can be positioned to maximise ergonomics and efficiency.

Functionality and expandability

A-dec equipment can accommodate and seamlessly integrate many auxiliary items, controlled via touchpad and/or foot control. To keep your unit at the cutting edge of dentistry, the equipment design supports future upgrades and expansion.
